

REMARKS

The Notice of Allowance mailed April 5, 2007 identified claims 12, 25, and 26 as allowed. In this amendment, allowed claims 12, 25, and 26 have been amended to improve their form and new claims 36-65 have been added. Support for the addition of the new claims can be found in the application as originally filed and no new matter is introduced by the new claims.

Addition of New Claims 36-52

Features similar to those recited by some or all of new claims 36-52 can be found in claims 13-24 and 27-35 as originally filed. Each of new claims 36-52 depends from one of allowable claim 12 or allowable claim 25 and thus is allowable at least by virtue of this dependency. Further, these dependent claims recite additional features not disclosed or suggested by the cited references.

Addition of New Claims 53-65

Features similar to those recited by some or all of new claims 53-65 can be found in claims 1-11 as originally filed. None of the cited references disclose or suggest, individually or in combination, the particular combinations of features recited by new claims 53-65. To illustrate, independent claim 53, from which claims 54-65 depend, recites the features of:

- encrypting a first portion of the display data using a first encryption key to generate a first encrypted stream;
- encrypting a second portion of the display data using a second encryption key to generate a second encrypted stream;
- transmitting the first encrypted stream for reception by a peripheral device via a first link of a video output port; and
- transmitting the second encrypted stream for reception by the peripheral device via a second link of the video output port that is separate from the first link of the video output port.

None of the cited references discloses or fairly suggests encrypting different portions of display data to generate two encrypted streams and transmitting each of the encrypted streams via a separate link of a video output port as provided by claim 53. Accordingly, the cited references fail to disclose or suggest each and every feature of claim 53, and thus fail to disclose each and every feature of claims 54-65. Claims 53-65 therefore are allowable and an indication of such is respectfully requested.
